Property Description

Almina Residences is a contemporary apartment development offering a collection of 60 exclusive homes on the Costa del Sol. The project focuses primarily on apartments, including ground-floor homes with private gardens, spacious first-floor residences, duplex apartments with terraces and solariums, and penthouses with large terraces and open panoramic views. Designed by renowned architect Juan Antonio Fernández, the architecture blends modern design with the natural surroundings, creating a balanced and well-integrated residential environment. The layout of the development is carefully planned to connect indoor and outdoor living, with green spaces, walkways and a natural flow between private homes and shared areas.
